Practice Description

Mark Cannon Humphrey is an exceptional negotiator and courtroom advocate, reaching many advantageous settlements at mediation, as well as winning in the courtroom.

Mark has worked hard to develop a proven approach to ensure your recovery is maximized and your exposure is minimized.

Mark prides himself on “looking at the whole picture” when solving a legal issue and understands how extraneous factors can complicate seemingly easy solutions.

Mark is a native of Arkansas but moved to the metroplex to attend law school at University of North Texas – Dallas College of Law.

Mark scored high enough on the Uniform Bar Exam to enable him to be eligible to practice in each of the 38 states that recognize the UBE. Although Mark is currently only licensed in Texas, he is planning to soon become licensed in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Mark enjoys mentoring young students to successful careers in the legal profession and will typically meet with a handful of select students each year to “show the ropes to”.

Outside of work, Mark enjoys training horses, hunting, fishing, and going to concerts.
